Danger in Delay

The great danger of kidney troubles is that they so often get a firm hold before the sufferer recognizes them. Health will be gradually undermined. Backache, headache, nervousness, lameness, soreness, numbness, urinary troubles, dropsy, gravel and Bright's disease may follow as the kidneys get worse. Don't neglect your kidneys. Help the kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. It is the best recommended special kidney remedy.

A Kansas Case

Mrs. R. A. Howard, 5. Fawn St., Canby, Kan., says: "I had a serious attack of kidney trouble along with terrible pains in my head. My health was all run down and nothing helped me until I used Doan's Kidney Pills. They restored me to good health and I don't believe I have an equal in curing weak and disordered kidneys. I recommend them every chance I get."

RICHES LIE IN OURSELVES

What the Man is, Not What He Has, Makes Him Wealthy or Poor.

In my own life, as I wander farther and farther along the vagabond trail in search of truth and beauty, I find it easier and easier to find contentment without the riches of the world. Leave me imagination, and I shall still be rich; but give me all the wealth of the world and take from me imagination and you will plunge me deep into a bottomless hell of indescribable misery.

We cannot own things without being owned by them. Thoreau understood this. His life was so successful that Emerson wrote of him, "Wherever there is knowledge, wherever there is beauty, he will find a home."

I cannot live Thoreau's life. But I can live my own.

"In the transmission of heavenly waters," says Emerson, "every hose fits its hydrant."—Thomas Dreier, in the Nautilus.

The woman, Mrs. Jean Christie Root of Glen Ridge, N. J., has learned to use a typewriter with great facility and makes light of her infirmities.

A Queer World.
This is a queer world. In one end of town a woman who has denied herself enough to eat so that the children might have milk for supper will pick up a piece of newspaper and see a big headline over the news that a woman in the other end of town has just paid $10,000 for a Pekinese poodle.—Cincinnati Inquirer.

FIRST VIEW OF PORTUGAL

Writer Describes Splendor of Scene as He Entered the Wondrous Harbor of Lisbon.

The sun was nearing the horizon as the sea narrowed to a strait, and to the left the old Tower of Belem again awoke memories of Vasco da Gama and his glorious return, writes Ernest Peixotto in Scribner's. Now as we threaded the narrow, the pale houses of Lisbon, clustered thick as eggs in a basket, pink, blue, ochre and white, pile up the hills to the Ajuda palace, and we entered the broad bay formed by the Tagus just as it empties into the sea—one of the largest harbors in Europe, that, however, with its sparse shipping, now seems like a frame too large for its picture.

Amid great bustle and confusion we were landed in a tender at the Alameda, took a cab with a pair of rattling ponies, sped through the hilly streets of the city, and then the broad Avenida opened before us, and we drew up at our hotel.

The first impression from our window next morning was a most pleasant one. And, indeed, Lisbon leaves the definite impression of a gay, bright capital, if not of a truly beautiful city. Beautiful it certainly is by nature, seated on its lofty hills overlooking the Tagus and interspersed everywhere with semitropical gardens and lawns, but its newer houses are too rectangular, too lacking in imagination to make anything but rather monotonous streets. Even the Praca do Commercio, though laid out upon a truly magnificent scale, fails to arouse enthusiasm.

This is the city's aspect to the casual visitor who devotes but a day or two to its sights. But to one who is willing to give it a week or more it holds many attractions.

The seeker for the picturesque will delight in the water front in the morning hours and in the fisher folk—the men in black bag-caps and blue breeches; the women, barefoot, setting out with basket on head to trot the city streets. These flashwives are the most picturesque of the Lisbon types and most of them are really beautiful, the fine ovals of their faces, their smooth complexions and lustrous almond-shaped eyes recalling the Mauresques and clearly bespeaking their oriental origin.

Too Sour.
Professor Copeland of Harvard, as the story goes, reproved his students for coming late to class.

"This is a class in English composition," he remarked with sarcasm, "not an afternoon tea."

At the next meeting one girl was 20 minutes late. Professor Copeland waited until she had taken her seat. Then he remarked bitingly:

"How will you have your tea, Miss Brown?"
"Without the lemon, please," Miss Brown answered quite gently.—Christian Register.

Eight-Hour Law in Alaska.
Alaska recently adopted an eight-hour law for placer miners and pensioned her aged and indigent prospectors.

"What kind of a dance was it the bellboys gave at the hotel?"
"Of course, it was a bell hop."

Only a regular woman can get any satisfaction out of a daily paper that is more than three days old.

Women do not like new wrinkles any more than they do old ones.

THE CHARM OF MOTHERHOOD

Enhanced By Perfect Physical Health.

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or understands how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfitted for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Musical Novelty.
The latest musical novelty is described by the New York World: "Along the two sides of the store are what look like telephone switchboards. Two telephone receivers hang from hooks and four numbered knobs wait only the magic touch to connect you up with your favorite selection. All you have to do is to drop a penny in the slot, turn the four knobs until you get the number corresponding to the one you've chosen in the catalogue, and away you go. It is the plan to add self-playing records to their equipment until it will be possible for one to hear an entire grand opera for, say, 37 cents. Or for 23 cents you can have an evening of Wagner, and so on."

Just So.
"What do you think of these here 'summer furs'?"
"It's carrying things pretty fur."
